It's quite simple really. First, we want to know you are a qualified store and not within a territory we currently sell within.

We select garments that we believe will fit into your aesthetic, consumer desires, and color options. We will send you multiple sizes so can achieve optimum success. Of course, if you prefer, select the garments you want and we will work from there.

We ship the box to you free of charge, sell what you can, and return what you don't or believe you will not sell.

When you order a Pick-Box we do require a credit card on file.
